The scene is a small Southern town where Colonel and Christine Penmark live with their daughter, Rhoda. Little Rhoda Penmark is, on the surface, sweet, charming, full of old-fashioned graces, loved by her parents, admired by all her elders. When one of Rhoda's classmates tragically dies, Christine finds herself with the horrifying realization that her precious Rhoda is a cold blooded serial killer. In one of the most shocking stories written Christine finds out that her daughter has killed before and will kill again. For Rhoda, Murder is child's play. What can Christine do? When she tries to discover why her daughter might be like this she makes a terrifying revelation.
